 Everyday decisions are taken at different level of healthcare system, pertaining to clinical, organisational as well as strategical tasks. How are they taken? Which is the quality of evidence they're based on? Is it possible to develop a conceptual framework that allows to consider all the relevant factor needed to make an informed choice? &#65533; Rome, Friday, 1 March 2013 &#65533; Programma To sign up for the workshop please contact: s.mitrova@deplazio.it
